

COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL THERAPY (CBT) – SESSION 15

New Case: Rohan (26 y/o) – Contamination OCD + Checking

Highly Detailed – Realistic Style

SESSION INFORMATION

Client:	Rohan (26 years, Male, Software Engineer, Bangalore)	Therapist:	Dr. A.
Session #:	15 of 18–20	Focus:	Continuing ERP + Relapse Prevention Planning

PRE-SESSION THERAPIST NOTES

Client arrived looking more confident and engaged than previous sessions. He practiced the public surface exposure at home 1 time with good habituation. He reported that he reviewed his Action Plan daily and found it helpful for staying mindful. He continues to use labeling effectively and is delaying other compulsions more consistently. Today's plan: Review home ERP practice and Action Plan use, continue ERP if needed, deepen relapse prevention planning, reinforce progress and coping skills, and assign new homework. Maintain supportive and encouraging approach.

SESSION START – HOMEWORK REVIEW

Therapist: Good morning, Rohan. How has your week been? I'm curious to hear how the public surface exposure went and how reviewing your Action Plan felt.

Client: (speaking with more confidence) It went quite well. I practiced it one time. Anxiety went up to around 60–65 and took about 16–18 minutes to come down significantly. I was able to resist washing for over 30 minutes. I also reviewed my Action Plan every day. It helped me stay aware of my Early Warning Signs and reminded me of what to do if things start getting worse. I feel like I'm becoming more mindful of my patterns.

Therapist: That's excellent. Both the continued progress with ERP and the consistent review of your Action Plan are very meaningful. Reviewing it daily, even briefly, helps keep the plan active in your mind so it's easier to use when needed. How are you feeling about these changes?

Client: I feel more hopeful and a bit proud. I'm seeing that I can handle more than I thought, and having a plan makes me feel more secure about maintaining my progress after therapy ends. I'm still nervous about some things, but I feel much more capable now.

CONTINUING ERP + RELAPSE PREVENTION PLANNING

Therapist: Since you're making consistent progress and we're approaching the later stages of therapy, I'd like to continue ERP practice while also deepening your relapse prevention plan. We can keep practicing the higher items on your hierarchy while also refining your Action Plan. How does that sound?

Client: It sounds good. I want to keep practicing, but I also want to make sure I have a solid plan for after therapy ends.

Therapist: Perfect. We'll do both. Today, let's review and refine your Action Plan a bit more, and if you're ready, we can also plan the next home practice. Would that be okay?

Client: Yes, I think I can try another exposure this week if it's not too high on the list.

REFINING THE ACTION PLAN

Therapist: Let's refine your Action Plan together. We already have a good structure. Now we can add more specific coping strategies you've found helpful and make it even more practical:

Refined Action Plan:

1. Immediately increase use of labeling ("This is an OCD thought") and urge surfing when Early Warning Signs appear
2. Practice one relevant exposure from your hierarchy daily for 1 week
3. Increase monitoring of washing/checking for 1 week to track any increase
4. Use breathing and grounding techniques when anxiety spikes
5. Review your values and long-term goals (connection, energy, self-acceptance) to stay motivated
6. If symptoms do not improve after 7–10 days or significantly affect daily life/work/relationships → Contact therapist for a booster session

Client: This feels more complete. I like having specific steps I can follow, especially reviewing my values when things get hard.

HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENT

Therapist: For this week:

1. Continue practicing the public surface exposure at home (1 time)
2. Continue practicing previous hierarchy items as needed
3. Continue labeling and monitoring
4. Review your refined Action Plan daily and practice one step from it even if OCD is not currently strong (to keep it fresh)

Client: I'll try reviewing the plan daily and practicing one step even on good days. I want to make sure it stays active in my mind.

Therapist: Excellent. We'll review everything next session.

SESSION SUMMARY & FEEDBACK

Therapist: Today we reviewed your strong progress, refined your Action Plan, and discussed continuing both ERP and relapse prevention planning. How are you feeling about today's session?

Client: I feel good. I like that we're building a solid plan for after therapy ends while still continuing to practice. I feel more confident about maintaining my progress.

Therapist: That's wonderful to hear. Any questions before we finish?

Client: Not really.
