

COGNITIVE BEHAVIORAL THERAPY (CBT) – SESSION 9

New Case: Aryan – Action Plan & Relapse Prevention

Full Detailed – More Realistic Style

SESSION INFORMATION

Client:	Aryan (32 y/o Male)	Therapist:	Dr. A.
Session #:	9 of 18–20	Focus:	Action Plan + Relapse Prevention

PRE-SESSION THERAPIST NOTES

Client brought his Early Warning Signs list. He had mixed results with Worry Postponement and behavioral activation again. Belief in the old thought remains around 45%. Today's plan: Review Early Warning Signs list, develop *Action Plan if symptoms return, continue cognitive/imagery work, and assign integrated homework.

SESSION START & HOMEWORK REVIEW

Therapist: Good morning, Aryan. How has your week been? I see you brought your Early Warning Signs list.

Client: It was average. I completed the Early Warning Signs list. Worry Postponement helped on some days. I did two small activities again. The time-limit experiment was still difficult. I'm still feeling like progress is slow, but the list was useful to write down.

Therapist: Thank you for bringing the list. It looks very clear. Today we can build on it by creating an Action Plan — what you will actually do when you notice several warning signs for more than a few days.

ACTION PLAN IF SYMPTOMS RETURN

Therapist: Let's develop your Action Plan together. This is what you will do when early warning signs appear for more than a few days.

Action Plan we developed together:

1. Increase use of daily diary + Worry Postponement for 1 week
2. Do at least one small behavioral experiment related to the current fear
3. Review Early Warning Signs list and Coping Card daily
4. Schedule 2–3 small activities even if motivation is low
5. If symptoms do not improve after 7–10 days or significantly affect work/relationships → Contact therapist for a booster session

Client: This feels clear. I like having a concrete plan instead of just hoping things get better.

CONTINUING COGNITIVE / IMAGERY WORK

Therapist: Last session your belief in the old thought was around 45% after the imagery exercise. How much do you believe it now?

Client: It's back around 50%. The compassionate note helped a bit, but it still feels present.

Therapist: That's completely normal. These beliefs often fluctuate. The imagery and compassionate note helped it drop temporarily, which shows it can change. We can continue building on that gradually.

HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENT

Therapist: For this week:

1. Continue daily diary + Worry Postponement practice
2. Continue scheduling 2–3 small activities per week
3. Continue the time-limit experiment with small tasks
4. Practice using your Early Warning Signs list and Action Plan when you notice signs

SESSION SUMMARY & FEEDBACK

Therapist: Today we reviewed your Early Warning Signs list and developed a clear Action Plan for when symptoms return. How does having this plan feel?

Client: It feels reassuring. I now have something concrete to follow if things get difficult again.

Therapist: That's exactly the goal. Any questions?

Client: No.

POST-SESSION THERAPIST NOTES

- Client completed Early Warning Signs list and responded positively to Action Plan.
- Belief in old thought remains around 45–50% — stable after imagery work.
- Client continues to express realistic mixed feelings about progress.

- Next session: Review Action Plan use, continue relapse prevention planning (booster session discussion), deepen imagery or cognitive work.
